SENATE TAKES UP THE TARIFF

Three-Days Battle Over Schedules Opens Today.

MUST END BY SATURDAY NIGHT

Member Introduces Substitute
In Which Figures Given by Taft's Board on Woolsens Are Taken as Basis—Republican Leaders In Dark
As to Program—Sugar Schedule to Be Threshed Out at Democratic Caucus Tomorrow.

Washington, July 25.—Senators today took up the three-days' program of tariff agitation which was mapped out. On the Republican side of the chamber only a partial line of action has been agreed upon, and the Democrats are somewhat at sea as to their program.

Before the end of Saturday's session the senate will act upon the sugar tariff, the sugar tariff and the excise bill, which would increase the present corporation tax to business done by individuals and co-partnerships.

A Canadian reciprocity and wood tariff amendment will be offered by Senator Gronna of North Dakota.
He provides for the repeal of the Canadian reciprocity law and for a rebate by one-half of the Payne tariff rates on wood pulp and printing. Senator Gronna declared he would offer his amendment as a substitute to each of the tariff bills in the hope that it would be adopted and passed on some one of them.

Both the Republican and Democratic forces are divided over the embarrassing questions that the tariff program presents. The break in the Republican ranks came as the result

Progressives Of Iowa Organizing

Iowa Supporters Indorse Roosevelt and Select Delegates.

Des Moines, Ia., July 25.—The Iowa progressive convention, composed of 735 delegates, declared for Theodore Roosevelt for president and named a committee of 26 delegates to attend the coming Chicago convention. The convention also nominated a full set of Roosevelt electors. The platform adopted denounced President Taft as a betrayer of the trust imposed in him by the people and eulogized Theodore Roosevelt as "the man to un-loose the fetters which bind the limbs of the common people."

TWELVE DEAD IN EVANS MINE LIST GROWING

Leaking Reservoir Sends Deluge

SIXTY-FOUR LIVES ENDANGERED

Three Men See Approaching Torrent and Dash Into Shaft to Warn Workers, All of Whom Except 12 Reach Entrance Before Mouth of Mine Is Closed—Women Make Exit Hazardous by Throwing Boards to Head Off Stream.

Evans Station, Pa., July 25.—When Evans mine No. 2 of the Suberba Coal company was flooded, 12 miners lost their lives.

When the water from the leaking Cool Spring reservoir came rushing down the mountainside 64 men were in the mine. The water was seen going in the main way of the mine
by William Geneer, the pit boss; Solomon Wilson, a machinist, and Joe Fordyce, who were outside the mine.
They rushed in the mine and passed the warning along that the mine was being flooded. The 12 who perished were 4,000 feet back in the mine, in what is known as the "sump," and the word either failed to reach them or they did not heed the warning.

Big Hole Carved Out.

The water rushed into the mine with such force through the main way that a hole 75 feet in diameter was carved out.

The wives and families of the miners in the mine gathered at the

T. R. Speech Near Ready

Roosevelt Will Attack Planks in Stanley Steel Measure.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 25.—Fine weather and the absence of visitors enabled Colonel Roosevelt to put in most of the day out doors, with rowing, riding and tennis. His purpose is to be in the pink of condition for the convention now near at hand, and for the ordeal of travel which will follow its close and take him practically through every state in the Union. The colonel, however, managed to get in some real work on his speech which is to be delivered at the convention. It is all but finished.
Its principal plank, however, is being brought up to date in reference to recommended legislation affecting corporations, which the Stanley committee gave out. He expects to demolish each of the Democratic proposals in his address.

Dams Break; Loss Big.

Wausau, Wis., July 25.—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was caused by the breaking of two dams on the Wisconsin river, north of here. No lives were lost here, but according to reports several farmhouses on the river bank were carried out by the flood.

Ohio Rifleman Victorious.

Bayonne, France, July 25.—The Ohio rifle scored its first success. W.
G. Roll made the highest possible score with a Lebel rifle, and his comrades were close after him.

BECKER KEEPS STRICT TAB ON GRAND JURY

Receives Report From Chauffeur
Who Is Witness.

New York, July 25.—From Lieutenant Charles Becker the district attorney wants to know why he is so interested in the grand jury proceedings. The grand jury is going not merely into the accusations that Becker was a grafter, but is considering also the testimony of Herman Rosenthal's relatives and friends that the gambler believed the police would kill him.

Otto Aversi, the chauffeur who has been wheeling Becker around town for more than a year, admitted that he went straight to the lieutenant at police headquarters on Monday afternoon after telling the grand jury that Becker had coached him about what to say. If Becker is willing to appear before the grand jury he will be asked about this conference, and Aversi will be questioned.

The discovery that Aversi rushed to Becker from the grand jury room was made just before Joseph Immerman, a brother of Mrs. Rosenthal, told the grand jury that Rosenthal had told him that he was afraid of Becker, and had described the relations that existed, he said, between the lieutenant of police and the gambler and Jack Rose. Statements made by Immerman as to the profitable dealings of policemen with gamblers will be fleshed out by the grand jury. Inspectors Hayes and Lapey and Captain Day have been subpoenaed to appear.

No apparent progress was made in locating the men wanted for the actual killing of Rosenthal or in tracing the plot back to the policeman that the district attorney and Deputy Commissioner Dougherty believe had most at stake in the murder.

Lightning Kills Boatman

Accident Near Sandusky May Also Cost Life of Companion.

Sandusky, O., July 25.—Struck by lightning while in a boat on Sandusky bay, near Martins Point, during a thunderstorm, Charles Kessler, 29, fisherman, was instantly killed, and John Troike, 25, was so badly burned that he is still unconscious and, according to physicians attending him, can not recover.

The men had been fishing. When the storm broke they started ashore and were about four rods from a boathouse in which they expected to find shelter when the bolt descended.
The boat was only slightly damaged.

Damage at Millersburg.

Millersburg, O., July 25.—The fiercest storm of the season swept through this section, causing heavy damage. Trees were torn to pieces and thrown against buildings and into the streets. Slate roofs were ripped off and a part of the stone coping on the new postoffice building was blown off.

More Troops Ordered Out.

Charleston, W. Va., July 25.—Additional troops were rushed to Peytonia, 60 miles from here, where a deputy sheriff was fatally wounded in a clash with striking miners. If the situation becomes more serious the entire National Guard of the state will be sent into the district.
The miners are in an ugly mood and,
armed with army rifles and winchesters, greatly outnumber the troops now on the scene.

Grace Declares His Wife Is Guilty

Grace Says Wife Will Confess When Confronted in Courtroom.

Atlanta, Ga., July 25.—"When I look my wife in the face in the courtroom next Monday," said Eugene Grace, "she will not be able to lie about me. She will have to tell the truth about drugging and shooting me. She's as guilty as hell, and she knows it."

Grace lay on a cot in his mother's home at Newman, Ga., and bitterly denounced his wife, formerly Mrs.
Daisy Opie of Philadelphia, whose trial is to begin in Atlanta next Monday.

"I've been here nearly four months flat on my back, not able to move anything but my arms, my head and my shoulders. My wife put me here.
If I were going to die this minute, I'd swear she shot me. I'd swear she did it cold-bloodedly for my money and left me as I am. I want to tell the jury how she shot me and left me to die. I could convince any jury that she shot me, and if I was looking her in the face she'd have to admit that she did it."

Mt. McKinley Is Winner Over Explorer

Professor Parker Gives Up Attempt to Ascend Mt. McKinley.

Fairbanks, Alaska, July 25.—After having climbed nearly four miles up the steep sides of Mount McKinley to a point within about 264 feet of the summit, Professor Herschell Parker of Columbia and Belmore Brown of Tacoma gave up their efforts to reach the goal and are on their way home.
Professor Parker arrived at Tolvina on the Tanana river and reported the failure. An altitude of 20,200 feet on the north and 19,000 on the south peak was reached. Severe blizzards about the summit prevented the scaling of the peaks.

LARGER NAVY GIVEN KNOCK

House Democrats Caucus and

Floor Leader Underwood Attends Meeting but Is Not Given Chance to Speak on Padgett's Motion to Include One Battleship—Congressman Burnett of Alabama Leads Fight to Limit Naval Expenditures
Unless Public Buildings Authorized.

Washington, July 25.—All hope of the navy for obtaining even one battleship from the present session of congress was apparently destroyed
when the Democrats of the house again went on record as opposed to any additions to the battleship fleet.

This unexpected action of the house Democrats was taken in opposition to the wishes of Leader Underwood, and also, it is understood, in opposition to the desire of Woodrow Wilson. By several Democratic leaders it is contended even that the action by the senate was a violation of the plan adopted at Baltimore, which pledges the party to provide for "an adequate navy" for national defense.

Considerable comment was caused by the fact that Speaker Clark voted in the caucus against any addition to the battleship fleet. The caucus was the third that the Democrats have held on this subject, and in each instance they have voted against appropriations for any additions to the navy.

The question of public buildings figures in the vote, as it has figured in the two previous votes by the Democrats.

Only a bare majority of the house
Democrats were present at the caucus.
The fight against the battleship program was led by Representative

THINK OF IT!

In the last municipal election, at which, it is fair to their ballots, there were 1-921 votes pulled.

Over 1,800 signatures have already been attached to the petitions for an Armory building.

Isn't that a splendid indication of public senti-

Isn't it

OFFICIALS of the New York navy yard, where the battleship New Hampshire was put in drydock after her recent collision with the Fall River line steamer Commonwealth, estimate that the repairs to the battleship will require two months and will cost upward of $40,000. The collision occurred in Narragansett bay, and the New Hampshire's stern plate on the starboard side was jammed in about four inches, and the plate was bent. A court of inquiry will report to Washington on the responsibility for the accident. Officers of the battleship charge that it was due to the high speed of the steamer through the fog that prevailed at the time. While the New Hampshire is out of commission her place in the fleet will be taken by Alabama, which has been out of commission for the past two years and is now in the first reserve.

HOT?

It is often said that a man is no older than he feels, and there is a good deal of truth in the statement, too.

It might be said with fully as much foundation, in fact when these hot spells come around as they have a habit of doing each summer season, that a man is just as hot as he thinks he is.

People who have work to do and do it, no matter what it is, do not suffer nearly so much with the hot weather. Men are just as hot as they think and the more they set around and talk about it the hotter they'll get. The best way on earth to get cooled off and stay cool is to be occupied with work and think of other things than the heat.

During the ten days just past this section of the country has been sweltering in tropical atmosphere. While we have not been baked, as it is commonly expressed, we have certainly been bar boiled.

The atmosphere has been very heavy and humid and while the thermometer has very frequently registered a higher figure it is not often that we have a longer spell of such depressing, wilting weather in this section.

The air has been heavily laden with moisture and rain has come on the slightest provocation, and each shower instead of being followed by lower temperature is succeeded by a more unendurable heat wave.

Vegetation never was more luxuriant at any season of the year than it is right now. Everything that has growing yet to do is simply outdoing itself, but while that is true man suffers, and the oats, the wheat and the hay crops face a grave danger.

Man can refuse to think about its being hot and keep cooler, but he can't think his oats and wheat to the mill or his hay to the mow.

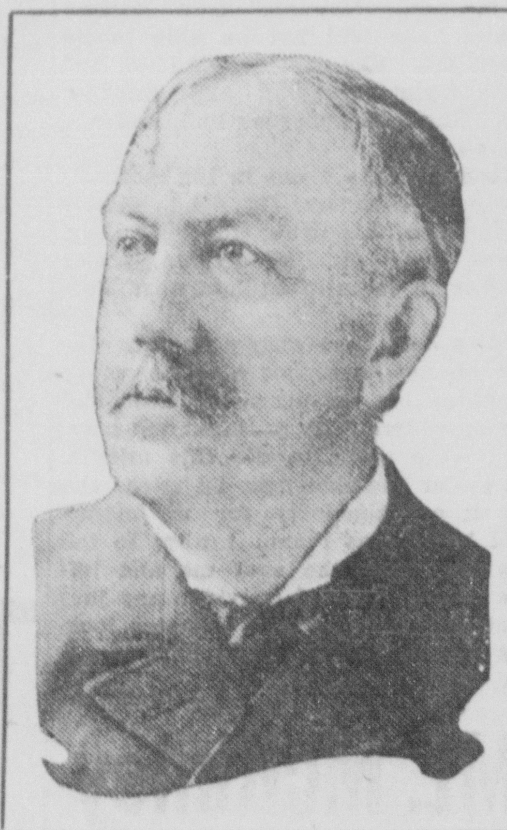

Along in the June days we were wishing for some hot humid days and nights. We didn't get them in June, but we are having June days and nights right now in the latter part of July.

We are bound to have those hot suffy, sticky, June days and nights as the old colored man said about the river: "We're bound to have de June raise if hit don't come till August."

TOO much stress is laid on the bravery of the fighting man. There are as many brave men found in private life when an emergency arises as may be found on the field of battle, and it does not require courage to go out and kill men by wholesale. We now have guns that will sweep men off fifteen miles away as easily as one may sweep grasshoppers off a fence with a garden hose.

The war debt of the world today is thirty-seven thousand million dollars. This enormous debt caused by the nations makes most of the POVERTY, while money has gone to enrich pawnbrokers. Except for accident and drunkenness there would be NO POVERTY IN THE WORLD TODAY.

It is the armor plate lobby of Europe that keeps up the cry of alarm, with the result that many Dreadnoughts are built. In Germany lately a dividend of 25 per cent was declared on the building of great warships, while in England the builders are doing quite as well, with the United States drawing along close after them.

We should have no fleet except for ORNAMENTAL PURPOSES, as there is no nation that would attack us. The Japanese war scare is nothing. That country is occupied with her own affairs.

WAR TAKES THE YOUNG AND VIGOROUS AND LEAVES THE WEAK TO CARRY ON THE RACE.

The Roman empire failed when the strong Romans were gone. Greece failed in the same way. These Greeks fought with each other until they were gone, and the country was filled with the odds and ends of humanity. So, too, with Spain, of which country a Spanish writer said, "Spain makes men and wastes them." The slum is a product of war. WITHOUT WAR THERE WOULD BE NO SLUMS. The inefficient are left to breed. War never uses any of that kind. Benjamin Franklin was the first man who saw how war most always destroys the breed. "Wars," he said, "are not paid for in wartime. The bill comes later."

SPEED.

Hurry, hurry, hurry!
Each day increase the pace;
No matter where the way is,
The object of the day is
To conquer time and space!
Hurry, hurry, hurry!
The timid only wait;
With eyes upon the meter,
Be fleet and always fleetier,
For speed alone is great.

Hurry, hurry, hurry!
Though death demand full toll!
Let every mile be reckon'd
Down to the precious second,
What ever be the goal.
Hurry, hurry, hurry!
On land and on the sea;
Though weeks be thickly scattered,
The records must be shattered,
Whatever they may be.

Hurry, hurry, hurry!
Though life be put at stake,
Let none proceed at leisure
To duty or to pleasure,
Or pause for safety's sake!
Hurry, hurry, hurry,
To conquer space and time;
Death points a bony finger,
But shame on them that linger—
Speed only is sublime!

Talk Happiness And Be Happy

Talk happiness! Yes, talk it—not only now and then, but every day of the week, the month, the year. And talk it even when you don't believe half of what you say. By and by you will be so filled with it that you will see that the half you did not believe when you said it, is every whit as true as the half you did believe, and maybe more so. So talk happiness.

The person who wishes to go whining on his way and who actually does so start upon it, will very soon find himself jostled and crowded and uncomfortable that he will be forced into realization of the fact that there is no room in this world for such as he. There is sorrow enough here without the addition of his woes.

So stop your whining, if you whine, and begin talking happiness. And talk it every chance you get—talk it good and strong. When you find yourself plodding grimly and glumly along the highways and byways, look for it. Never mind if it be a stranger who never visits you—talk it! You will make your fellows happy by so doing, and one day something else will happen which you never suspected could come to pass. You will find that you and happiness are chums.

Then spread the gospel of happiness, of good cheer, wherever you may go, and receive in return the blessings of those into whose lives you brought the sunshine.—Ex.

Letter From the Dead
Written Under the Sea

On April 16th last, submarine No. 6 of the Imperial Japanese navy was lost while maneuvering in Hiroshima Bay and all on board perished. She was commanded by Lieut. Takuma Faotomu, and after the vessel was raised, a letter of farewell from him was found in her conning tower. This remarkable document will be read with interest. The translation from the original published in the Japanese press, appeared in the Kobe Herald, and it as follows:

"Although there is indeed no excuse to make for the sinking of his Imperial Majesty's boat, and for the doing away of subordinates through my heedlessness, all on board the boat have discharged their duties well and have acted calmly until death. Although we are departing in pursuance of our duty to the state, the only regret we have is due to anxiety lest the men of the world misunderstand the matter, and that thereby a blow may be given to the future development of the submarines.

"Gentlemen, we hope you will be increasingly diligent without misunderstanding the cause of the accident, and that you will devote your full strength to investigate everything, and so secure the future development of submarines. If this be done we shall have nothing to regret.

"While going through gasoline submarine exercises we submerged too far and when we attempted to shut the sluice valve, the chain in the meantime gave way.

"Then we tried to close the sluice valve by hand, but it was then too late, the rear part being full of water, and the boat sank at an angle of about 25 degrees. The boat rested at an incline of about 12 degrees pointing toward the stern. The switchboard being under water the electric lights gave out. Offensive gas developed and respiration became difficult. About 10 a. m. on the 15th the boat sank, and under this offensive gas we endeavored to expel the water by hand pumps.

"At the same time the vessel was being submerged we expelled the water from the main tank. The light having gone out the gage cannot be seen, but we know the water has been expelled from the main tank.

"We cannot use the electric current entirely; the electric liquid is overflowing, but no salt water has entered and chlorine gas has not developed. We only rely upon the hand pump now. The above has been written under the light of the conning tower, when it was about 11:45 o'clock. We are now soaked by the water which has made its way in. Our clothes are pretty wet and we feel cold. I had always been used to warn my shipmates that their behavior (on an emergency) should be calm and delicate, while brave; otherwise we could not hope for development and progress, and at the same time one should not cultivate excessive delicacy, lest work should be retarded. People may be tempted to ridicule this after this failure, but I am perfectly confident that my previous words have not been mistaken. The depth gage of the conning tower indicated 52 feet, and despite the endeavor to expell the water, the pump stopped, and did not work after 12 o'clock. The depth in this neighborhood being 10 fathoms, the reading may be correct.

"The officers and men of submarines must be appointed from the most distinguished among the distinguished, or there will be annoyance in cases like this. Happily all the members of this crew have discharged their duties well, and I am satisfied. I have always expected death whenever I left home, and therefore my will is already in the drawer at Karasaki. (This remark applies only to my private affairs, and it is not necessary. Messrs. Taguchi and Asami please inform my father of this).

"I respectfully request that none of the families left by my subordinates shall suffer. The only thing I am anxious about is this. (Atmospheric pressure is increasing, and I feel as if my tympanum were breaking).

"12:30 o'clock, respiration is extraordinarily difficult. I mean I am breathing gasoline. I am intoxicated with gasoline.

"It is 12:40 o'clock."

CARE OF CHILDREN'S HAIR.

Not until recently have lots of mothers realized the importance of paying special attention to children's hair.

Since medical examination has been going on in schools, it has developed that many children do not have their heads washed more than a few times a year. This neglect prejudices the growth of the hair as the child becomes older and in a man causes baldness and in a woman thin, scraggly, falling hair.

Toilet and laundry soaps should be avoided in washing the hair, and we strongly recommend to every mother the use of Mrs. Mason's Old English Shampoo Cream, which is made from the private formula of Kate Seaton Mason, the noted English Hair Specialist.

It is a pure antiseptic tonic wash for the hair which cleanses perfectly and promotes the growth at the same time. This is the preparation which has had such great success in New York, London and Paris, and it is only 25c a tube, enough for several shampoos.

If you try it and don't like it we will return your money. Blackmer & Tanquary, druggists.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one deadly disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Over Six Million Barrels of Water

Over six million barrels of water deluged Hillsboro Sunday morning during the church hour. These figures are not guess work, but are computed. The rainfall Sunday as shown by the Government gauge was 3.49 inches. The diameter of Hillsboro is 2 miles. Counting the circumference as being regular, the stupendous volume of 6,000,000 barrels of water is found to have fallen. Those who care to figure, will find the process of arriving at the above conclusion very interesting.

The rain began on Sunday morning before church time. It stopped long enough to give the devout time to get to services. When all were in the churches, even as Noah and his family were in the Ark, the rain descended. Yes, as the preacher said, the floods came.

Every creek and branch in the country filed in a little while. Ponds to patches and corn fields looked like lakes. A great amount of damage was done, principally to the wheat. It was feared that thousands of bushels of unthreshed grain would mould.—Hillsboro Dispatch.

MONUMENT TO CATTLE HORSE

One of the most unique monuments in Lake View cemetery, Seattle, Wash., is a shaft of gray marble erected to a horse. The owner, W. I. Wadleigh, was a cattle man in the Yakima Valley. His horse, "Buck," was his most efficient helper both in "cutting out" a cow or steer and in protecting his master in time of danger. "Buck" could be depended upon to find his way in the worst storm, and more than once he swam the Columbia river and guided his master, who carefully held on to "Buck's" tail. When Mr. Wadleigh retired from business and came to Seattle to live, he brought with him this favorite horse and at his death erected the monument with the following inscription:

BUCK,
My Favorite Cattle Horse,
Died Sept. 20, 1884.
Aged 18 Years and 6 Months.

On another face of the shaft is this tribute: "For thirteen years my trusty friend and companion in blackness of night, in storm, sunshine and danger."
On the third side is the motto: "In Adversity Faithful," and on the fourth the single word, "Corraled."

Slender Figure—of Speech.
A Tacoma lawyer, arguing a divorce case recently, closed his address to the jury as follows: "My client is a beautiful woman, so beautiful that the sun seems to stand still while the stars gaze at her. Truthful! Falsity flies from her even as the jack rabbit from the greyhound. Sweet! Gentlemen, honey would freeze in her mouth. Tender and slender! My client could bathe in a fountain pen."

CURIOUS HOUSES IN CHINA

Celestials Build Their Homes or Palaces Wall-Within-Wall—All Have Beautiful Gardens.

Peking, China.—It is difficult for the occidental mind to picture the wall-within-wall life of a Chinese home. Down a narrow lane one passes between two walls, behind which may be hovels or palaces, there is no telling which, since the one-story roofs beyond are invisible, says a writer in the Century Magazine.

One pulls a string at a gateway, the address of some family of high degree. A servant appears, leads through another gateway, a flowery courtyard, a passageway, perhaps another courtyard, a little room or two, and finally into a reception room, with its carved wood and wainscoting and furniture, its porcelains and jades and brasses, its blue-and-green-and-gold ceiling and its window pattern of paper panes.

Here the hostess appears, offers her occidental guest tea or champagne, or both, with cakes and candied fruit or lotus buds. Then she may lead one through other courtyards, all with the usual one-story rooms around them, and into her secluded garden of rocks and pools, of pretty paths and bridges, of clustering trees and flowers.

In such a palace as this each courtyard, with its surrounding rooms, may be the special home of one of the sons and his wife and children; but somewhere in the maze of walls, under one of the low, tiled roofs, is the common dining room, with the kitchen beyond. Here the men of the family eat together, twice a day, and afterward the women and children. And somewhere also there is a central family hall, with the ancestral tablets, which must have their tribute of incense at proper seasons. These are held in such reverence that no foot may pass above them, and therefore two-story dwellings are unknown in regions uncontaminated by foreign influence.

Wisconsin "Co-Eds" Must Keep House.
Madison, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin "co-eds" in the home economics course will have a chance to wrestle with the real cost of living problem. By a new requirement, each of them must in turn take charge of the new practice cottage under actual housekeeping conditions.

SUMMER AT THE MATTERHORN

Monster Mountain Has Claimed Many Victims Who Attempted to Scale Its Summit.

Zermatt.—High up the mountain-side, above Zermatt, in full view of that dread outline which is the wonder of the world, we spent the long days of summer. From the small natural platform, directly in front of the hotel, it was possible to include both the opposite peak and the village far beneath, in a single glance. The Matterhorn reared his fearful form in menacing attitude against the heavens, an object of worship nevertheless, for all his aspect of grim cruelty. Every morning very early he accepted my homage from our tiny dormer window through which we obtained a marvelous view of the entire valley and its colossal guardian, and by degrees there developed a silent but thorough, and I might even say, psychic sympathy between us.

We were not so fortunate as to see the Alpine glow at any time, for it was not the proper season; only a tinge of rose appeared sometimes on the rugged sides of the Matterhorn. After all it was enough to breathe the air of that high, free place; to run over the grassy rolling knolls behind the hotel, to lie down in the sunshine, near some weather-stained chalet, and to see the shining of the evening star, apparently quite close to the dark crest of the mighty mountain opposite.

One day we talked with a retired guide, whose fingers and one foot had been frozen off in the Andes, and who, in his day, had made many ascents, among them that of the Matterhorn. He seemed to consider the latter feat simple enough, and really very safe with due precautions. He was a fine-looking specimen of manhood, barring his pathetically maimed condition; an almost gigantic, thoroughly genial mountaineer, who seemed to take pleasure in showing us his remarkable museum, with its interesting charts, relief maps, and photographs. Also, its painful relics of the numerous victims of that mountain-conquering madness, which I, for one, cannot condemn, since it seized, to some extent, on my own imagination, while in sight of those siren heights that call and beckon with a mysterious enchantment, from their frozen solitudes. There were nailed shoes and caps, knapsacks and ice-picks, all marked with the names of their owners who had lost their lives in snowstorms, from avalanches, or from some treacherous misstep on the edge of a precipice. There were an appalling number of causes enumerated, but the chief reason for most of these catastrophes seemed to spring from human rashness—complete indifference to the proper season for such undertakings, as, for example, attempts to scale the Matterhorn or the Lyskamm or lofty Monte Rosa as late as October, at which time the chances of blizzards and avalanches are very great.

THRASH BEATER WITH HOSE

Pennsylvania Masked Men Wallop J. W. Bowman in a Park for Striking His Wife.

Beaver, Pa.—Thirty-five masked men dressed as women took J. W. Bowman from Policeman Baker after tying the officer to a fence and escorted Bowman to a park, when they beat him with a rubber hose. Bowman had been arrested, charged with wife beating. After hearing the case a justice instructed Officer Baker to take Bowman home, and if Mrs. Bowman told her husband to return to release him. On the way to the Bowman home the prisoner was taken by the vigilance committee.

Poundmaster to Make Job Pay.
Oroville, Cal.—John Rich, newly elected poundmaster sees a fortune in the job. First, he will get 50 cents a dog from the city. He intends to skin the animals and sell the hides. The meat he will crush and extract the oil, which he declares is a genuine cure for consumption. The flesh is to be used for chicken feed and the bones for fertilizer. He intends using everything but the bark.

FOR AWKWARD SQUAD

DRILL SERGEANT'S ADVICE TO THE MILITIA RECRUIT.

Instructions for the Making of a Good Soldier That Contain Much Valuable Inside Information Couched in Homely Phraseology.

Instructions to a newly enlisted man, just published, issued for the information of the organized militia of New York, contains some interesting inside information.

Adjutant General Verbeck states in a foreword that the instructions are couched in a homely phraseology, such as a drill sergeant might use in a talk to a recruit in whom he is interested.

Here, then, is the drill sergeant in action:

"Don't get mad because you don't understand the reason for a command. It may have a deeper meaning than you can fathom. Just do it and let it go at that."

"The object of drill and discipline is not to worry you. The captain is not sitting up all night to invent contraptions to persecute you."

"If you are weak and easily thrown off your base, get back into control of yourself as quickly as you can. If you are the kind that boils over at the slightest rubbing the wrong way, put up the bluff that you are cool as a cucumber. Disguise your anger."

"Don't stay mad long; it uses up too much energy. Save your energy as you would ammunition. Remember that it is a sign of strength to hide your temper. Don't copy after some few officers who bluster and storm with brave oaths. They peter out on the firing line. Hot heads make cold feet. Be afraid of the quiet kind."

"Rub yourself off the slate and you'll get along with the men of your company. It is only the conspicuous, fresh recruit who talks too much with his mouth that is sent on errands for 'skirmish line,' 'saber ammunition,' 'tent wrenches' and other imaginary ordnance property."

"If you are easy going and a good sport, you will take these harmless jokes in a good natured way and get along with your bunkie and other comrades. If you can control your temper and have the nerve to stand a little teasing without sputtering, you won't run up against any of the cheap, high school variety of hazing."

"Wear your hat straight on your head, not cocked saucily on the side. Don't wear it on the back of the head. Don't stick cartridges in the hatband. Don't have the service hat used as an autograph album."

"Learn to stand steadily, not like a ramrod, but without strain. Don't spit in ranks; don't wiggle. Don't follow the inspector with your eyes."

"When your company is dismissed from drill, don't turn a handspring, howl with joy or fire off blank cartridges. On the other hand, don't limp off, cussing out your captain, thus advertising that you are all in. Just disappear; evaporate."

"Don't roll up your shirt sleeves unless you are doing dirty work and want them kept clean. Never point your gun at anyone. Keep it locked. You must habitually imagine that it is loaded. When you are on the range, keep the bolt drawn back except when you are actually shooting."

"Don't fence with your bayonet or swing it about recklessly, as it is as sharp as a razor."

"Initiative tells you what to do and when to do it. It's the brains in the head, not in the heels. It's the stuff out of which captains are made. When you're in the trenches and you can't hear yourself think for the rattle, it tells you when to cease firing and when to dash forward, stooping low to the ground until you come to the next cover. Initiative tells you when you're to 'follow me.' It does up the plan. It carries it out. Initiative is the happy thought put into action."

"Obedience, nerve and initiative, but the greatest of these is initiative."

Mother's Only Chance.

John, the twelve-year-old son of a widely known corporation lawyer of Kansas City whose public life often brings his picture in the daily press, caused his father much amusement and pride when he returned home from school the other night. Running to his father the boy pointed to a picture of himself printed in the daily paper.

"Pa, I guess I can get my picture in the paper, too," the boy proudly said. "I won the first prize in the school debate."

The boy's mother came up and laughingly said: "Well, I do not think that is fair. Your papa has his picture in the paper so many times, and here you begin. What can I do to get my picture published?"

The boy pondered a moment and then said: "Well, mama, I guess you will have to start taking patent medicine. You can get your picture in the paper then."

Hardness of a Diamond.

A carpenter runs his plane over a piece of wood and out come the pretty curly shavings. Now, if a plane is made with a diamond blade instead of a steel blade, and the blade is set just right, the plane when run over glass will turn out fine, thin shavings, something like those made by a plane on wood. This gives some idea of the wonderful hardness of a diamond, yet there is something harder than a diamond; it is another diamond or even the same diamond, for a diamond may be extra hard in one part and not so hard in another part.

Mere Children Associate With Finished Criminals

The following dispatch sent out from Lancaster has created no end of comment:

Little pink-cheeked boys of 7 and 8, homeless boys, neglected boys, orphans, have been tossed into the great hopper, known as the Lancaster State Industrial school, to mingle with burly young prisoners of 19 and 20, with the idea that thereby they may be ground out at the end of one, two or three years "reformed."

"What the boys don't know before they come, they learn after they get here, commented Edward Blackman, assistant at the institution for several years.

"Young men coming back for violation of parole are a source of contamination to the younger boys," said Superintendent F. C. Gerlach. "Yet we have no way to stop their coming."

Commitment papers show 27 burglars, one youth convicted of manslaughter, and other morally worse, sent here to associate with the 55 little truants doing time—the tot committed for "stealing a door key," the five who came solely because they are dependent and homeless, another who came for stealing a chicken, and still another who found a gun somewhere and carried it off.

The great bulk of the boys are in school as "delinquents." The law gives a judge power to declare a boy delinquent for nearly anything from poverty up.

The latter classes of youngsters, sent to meet and benefit by the instruction of big toughs of 19 and 20 years of age, are children who never had a chance.

Here is a list showing the home conditions which sent 942 of the 1,- 200 boys to Lancaster:

Father insane .....	3
Mother insane .....	4
Parents separated .....	160

"Even at that it is only those who have no regular work, nor any legitimate means of amusement that get into trouble. Public playgrounds in the cities where they would be guided out of school hours would have kept half our boys from ever coming here at all."

"We ought to have some means to get the big toughs out of Lancaster. That done, we ought to have some help with the little chaps sent here on parole. If the Y. M. C. A. would only help, there would be mighty few violations of parole."

"When we find anything morally wrong among the young boys here it is nearly always traceable to some boy who has gone out on parole, fallen among evil associates, has learned things he ought not know, and coming back, has tainted his enforced companions."

"The average boy at the school is from 13 to 15."

The little boys came, nearly all, from country counties.

"And nearly every mother's son of them is a good boy at the bottom," said Assistant Superintendent Westcott. "They just haven't had a chance. We can teach them a trade and send them out ready to earn a living. There isn't much we can do with the boys 18 and over, and they ought not to be here at all."

ARISTOTLE ON THE I. AND R.

A Philosopher Whose Wisdom Still Lives, Writing Before Christ, Tells of Its Advocacy by Demagogues.

Experience with the initiative, referendum and recall in a county having the highest civilization three centuries before Christ, by Aristotle, a philosopher whose wisdom has kept his works alive till today, is of interest to those who soon must vote it in or out of our constitution.

The passage is from Aristotle's "Politics": "A fifth form of democracy, in other respects the same, is that in which, not the law, but the multitude, have the supreme power, and supersede the law by their decrees. This is a state of affairs brought about by the demagogues. For in democracies which are subject to the law the best citizens hold the first place, and there are no demagogues, but where the laws are not supreme there demagogues spring up. For the people becomes a monarch and is many in one; and the many have the power in their hands, not as individuals, but collectively. Homer says that 'it is not good to have a rule of many,' but whether he means this corporate rule, or the rule of many individuals, is uncertain. And the people, which is now a monarch, and no longer under the control of law, seeks to exercise monarchical sway, and grows into a despot; the flatterer is held in honor; this sort of democracy being relatively to other democracies what tyranny is to other forms of monarchy. The spirit of both is the same, and they alike exercise a despotic rule over the better citizens. The decrees of the demos correspond to the edits of the tyrant; and the demagog is to one what the flatterer is to the other. Both have great power; the flatterer with the tyrant, the demagog with democracies of the kind which we are describing. The demagogues make the decrees of the people override the laws, and refer all things to the popular assembly. And, therefore they grow great, because the people have all things in their hands, and they hold in their hands the votes of the people, who are too ready to listen to them. Further, those who have any complaint to bring against the magistrates say 'let the people be judges'; the people are too happy to accept the invitation; and so the authority of every office is undetermined. Such a democracy is fairly open to the objection that it is not a constitution at all; for where the laws have no authority, there is no constitution. The law ought to be supreme over all, and the magistrates and the government should judge of particulars."

Too Much Haste.

The Ohio State Journal, in a leading editorial, makes this protest:

"The day for voting on the proposed constitutional amendments comes too soon. The propositions are not yet in the hands of the people, and this important matter is to be decided September 3. Under the present constitution, any changes were to be advertised six months before voted upon. But here we have practically a new constitution, embodying most radical changes, to be considered and decided upon after only a few weeks' consideration."

"The organic law is the most vital matter in government. It should be adopted only after full and fair consideration. This these new propositions are not getting. What is the need of so much haste? Is there purpose in it? Don't the managers of the Con-Con. want to give the people time to think? There is no hurry about adopting the proposed constitution. It is not such a perfect affair that it is to be accepted without a question."

"It seems as if there is partisan spirit or the pride or parentage that is engaged in forcing this constitution upon the people without giving them full time to consider. And then the printed amendments to be sent to the people are accompanied by one-sided explanations, thus robbing the judgment of that judicial temper of mind that should characterize the discussion of a proposed constitution."

MONUMENT TO CATTLE HORSE

One of the most unique monuments in Lake View cemetery, Seattle, Wash., is a shaft of gray marble erected to a horse. The owner, W. I. Wadleigh, was a cattle man in the Yakima Valley. His horse, "Buck," was his most efficient helper both in "cutting out" a cow or steer and in protecting his master in time of danger. "Buck" could be depended upon to find his way in the worst storm, and more than once he swam the Columbia river and guided his master, who carefully held on to "Buck's" tail. When Mr. Wadleigh retired from business and came to Seattle to live, he brought with him this favorite horse and at his death erected the monument with the following inscription:

BUCK,
My Favorite Cattle Horse,
Died Sept. 20, 1884,
Aged 18 Years and 6 Months.

On another face of the shaft is this tribute: "For thirteen years my trusty friend and companion in blackness of night, in storm, sunshine and danger."

On the third side is the motto: "In Adversity Faithful," and on the fourth the single word, "Corrado."

Slender Figure—of Speech.
A Tacoma lawyer, arguing a divorce case recently, closed his address to the jury as follows: "My client is a beautiful woman, so beautiful that the sun seems to stand still while she gazes at her. Truthful! Falsity flies from her even as the jack rabbit flies from the greyhound. Sweet! Gentlemen, honey would freeze in her mouth. Tender and slender! My client could bathe in a fountain pen."—National Corporation Reporter.

ARISTOTLE ON THE I. AND R.

A Philosopher Whose Wisdom Still Lives, Writing Before Christ, Tells of Its Advocacy by Demagogues.

Experience with the initiative, referendum and recall in a county having the highest civilization three centuries before Christ, by Aristotle, a philosopher whose wisdom has kept his works alive till today, is of interest to those who soon must vote it in or out of our constitution. The passage is from Aristotle's "Politics":

"A fifth form of democracy, in other respects the same, is that in which, not the law, but the multitude, have the supreme power, and supersede the law by their decrees. This is a state of affairs brought about by the demagogues. For in democracies which are subject to the law the best citizens hold the first place, and there are no demagogues, but where the laws are not supreme there demagogues spring up. For the people becomes a monarch and is many in one; and the many have the power in their hands, not as individuals, but collectively. Homer says that 'it is not good to have a rule of many,' but whether he means this corporate rule, or the rule of many individuals, is uncertain. And the people, which is now a monarch, and no longer under the control of law, seeks to exercise monarchical sway, and grows into a despot; the flatterer is held in honor; this sort of democracy being relatively to other democracies what tyranny is to other forms of monarchy. The spirit of both is the same, and they alike exercise a despotic rule over the better citizens. The decrees of the demos correspond to the edicts of the tyrant; and the demagog is to one what the flatterer is to the other. Both have great power; the flatterer with the tyrant, the demagog with democracies of the kind which we are describing. The demagogues make the decrees of the people override the laws, and refer all things to the popular assembly. And, therefore they grow great, because the people have all things in their hands, and they hold in their hands the votes of the people, who are too ready to listen to them. Further, those who have any complaint to bring against the magistrates say 'let the people be judges'; the people are too happy to accept the invitation; and so the authority of every office is undetermined. Such a democracy is fairly open to the objection that it is not a constitution at all; for where the laws have no authority, there is no constitution. The law ought to be supreme over all, and the magistrates and the government should judge of particulars."

Too Much Haste.
The Ohio State Journal, in a leading editorial, makes this protest: "The day for voting on the proposed constitutional amendments comes too soon. The propositions are not yet in the hands of the people, and this important matter is to be decided September 3. Under the present constitution, any changes were to be advertised six months before voted upon. But here we have practically a new constitution, embodying most radical changes, to be considered and decided upon after only a few weeks' consideration."

"The organic law is the most vital matter in government. It should be adopted only after full and fair consideration. These new propositions are not getting. What is the need of so much haste? Is there purpose in it? Don't the managers of the Con-Con. want to give the people time to think? There is no hurry about adopting the proposed constitution. It is not such a perfect affair that it is to be accepted without a question."

"It seems as if there is partisan spirit or the pride or parentage that is engaged in forcing this constitution upon the people without giving them full time to consider. And then the printed amendments to be sent to the people are accompanied by one-sided explanations, thus robbing the judgment of that judicial temper of mind that should characterize the discussion of a proposed constitution."

LIGHTNING BOLTS CAUSE DESTRUCTION OF BARNS

Big Barn and Contents, Including Four Horses, Owned by Noah Thornton, and One Owned by Noah Smith Burn to Ground During the Terrific Electrical Storm Yesterday Evening—Mr. Thornton Dazed by Bolt Which Kills Horses and Fires Barn.

During the terrific electrical storm which followed the day of intense heat Wednesday, two barns were struck by lightning near this city and both destroyed, four head of horses perishing in one of the structures.

The first barn struck was about 5 o'clock in the evening when a bolt fell upon a barn on the Noah Smith farm where Bart Weaver resides, about two miles east of this city on a road leading from the Circleville to the Waterloo pikes.

Mr. Weaver hurried at once to the barn when he saw smoke issuing from it and succeeded in releasing two horses and driving them out and removing his buggy. The barn was a small one and within a few minutes was enveloped in flames from top to bottom.

During the most severe storm about eight o'clock, when a heavy storm cloud swept down from the northwest and threatened to dip down and wipe the city from the face of the earth, a lightning bolt struck Mr. Noah Thornton's barn on the Jamestown pike some three miles from this city, killing four head of horses and badly stunning Mr. Thornton and his son, Birtus, who were in the barn milking.

The horses, consisting of three splendid work animals and a younger horse, were killed by the lightning itself. They were within a few feet of Mr. Thornton and it seemed the whole interior of the barn was enveloped in the flames. Mr. Thornton

PILES DISAPPEAR.

So Does Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Old Sores and Carbuncles.

Under the influence of San Cura Ointment surprising cures are made so quickly that they seem like miracles.

Stubborn cases of piles like those of Rev. W. P. Gilbert of Titusville, Pa., vanish before the marvelous antiseptic ointment. Mr. Gilbert writes: "For twenty years I suffered with bleeding and itching piles; at times I was confined to the house for more than a month. Two years ago I began using San Cura Ointment and one 50c jar made a firm and permanent cure. I have not been troubled since."

San Cura Ointment is guaranteed by Brown's Drug Store, who is the agent in Washington C. H., Ohio, to cure any of the above named diseases or money back. It instantly kills all pain from burns, cuts and bruises, draws out the poison and heals in a short time. 25 cents and 50 cents a jar at Brown's Drug Store.

GOOD BABY SOAP.

San Cura is a healing and antiseptic soap; just the soothing kind that baby needs. It frees the pores from all impurities and prevents fevers, rashes and other infantile diseases. Best for anyone's skin, cures pimples and blackheads, cleans the complexion. 25 cents a large cake at Brown's Drug Store.

Mail orders for San Cura Ointment and Soap filled by Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

was dazed for several moments.

The big barn was set on fire by the bolt, and the flames spread with remarkable rapidity. In another part of the barn from where the horses were killed, the fine stallion, Sailor Boy, and others horses were kept, but the barn door was blown open by the force of the exploding electricity and when the horses were untied they escaped. The cows were also gotten out, but everything else, including 1200 bushels of corn, a large amount of hay, harness, tools, etc., made fuel for the greedy flames which quickly consumed everything.

Mr. Thornton's loss will exceed $2500 it is believed, and he had not a dollar of insurance. He has announced his intention of building a new barn without delay.

The storms were unusually severe throughout this portion of the county, and in southeastern and southern Fayette they apparently increased in fury.

WHAT MAKES A WOMAN?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters give her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Bloodpoisoning Infected Hand

Hon. Humphrey Jones, who was confined to his home in Bloomingburg, suffering from a felon on one finger of his right hand, has been in a dangerous condition as the result of blood poisoning, but today he is somewhat better and it is believed will soon recover.

The hand and arm are badly swollen and the wound covers a large portion of the hand, as it was necessary to use the lance in a number of places and give the wound close attention.

Mr. Jones was able to get to the phone today when called by The Herald, and expressed the belief that he would be back to his office in this city some time the first of the week. His suffering with the afflicted hand has been very great for nearly two weeks.

Doctors Hyer and McDonald have been treating Mr. Jones.

Deserter Has Relatives Here

The police have received notification from the War Department that George A. Barnes, who is known in this city and has relatives here, deserted from the regular army at Ft. Snelling, Minn., on July 14th and that $50 reward will be paid for his capture.

Barnes enlisted at Columbus, and gave the name of an uncle here as one to refer to in case of death or illness. It is thought he will not return to this city soon.

WORK BEGINS ON WALLS OF THE MASONIC TEMPLE

Bricklayers have commenced work on the walls of the Masonic Temple, and the first brick were laid on the north foundation wall at the corner fronting on Main street.

Although it has been impossible to secure the steel to be used in the building, bricklayers will proceed without delay in building the walls to the top of the first story, and by next week the walls will once more loom up to fill the big break on Main street. The walls can be carried up some 15 feet before it will be necessary to use any of the structural steel, and the contractors hope to have some of the steel on the ground by that time, in order that little delay will occur.

Other workmen are laying the concrete foundations for the center supports in the basement, and every day the place becomes more and more a scene of real building activity.

Workmen in the employ of Mr. R. C. Hunt have been engaged in laying a new sewer from the basement of the hotel site to the main sewer which runs south on Main street.

The tap is made at the railroad crossing and the trench has been opened up in the sidewalk leading past the Pennsylvania depot. The sewer will drain an eight-foot basement.

The finishing touches are now being placed on the Allen block, and within a short time the last work will be done and the building be ready for the tenants who were driven out when the structure was gutted by flames.

Two Lads Will Get Free Trip

Two Fayette county boys will get a free trip to the Ohio State Fair this year, and there will be some close rivalry in the contest to see who will win the "prize".

The contest to see who goes will be conducted along the same lines as last year, and all applications for the trip must be in the hands of County Auditor Henkle before August 17, and also a copy of the application sent to Secretary A. P. Sandles. The winner last year, Ralph Roush, will not be eligible this year under the rules, but all farmer boys over 15 years old and under 20 have a chance to go.

The contest will be decided August 17 at 10 a. m., at the court house, when the delegates will elect the lads who are to go, and it is safe to predict that each one of the delegates will be visited by the candidates.

Karney Tin Shop Changes Hands

WHEN WOMAN'S WORK IS DONE.

Somebody said, "Woman's work is never done." Anything that emancipates her from this form of slavery is hailed with joy. This is the reason for the constantly increasing popularity of "Easy Task Soap," the hard, white, pure laundry soap, that does half the work of wash-day by itself. Add to this the fact that it positively does not rot or streak the clothes, that it launders laces, linens, flannels, silks, bedding, table cloths and all fabrics perfectly, and you will understand why it should be in your house right away.

Silver Medal Contest Held

The Sugar Grove Women's Christian Temperance Union held the fourth silver medal contest Thursday evening at Sugar Grove church, and quite a large crowd attended the entertainment.

The contestants were Margaret Wilson, Ethel Moore, Mabel North, Wanita Haynes, Gladys King and Pearl Post, and Miss Margaret Wilson was awarded the medal.

The judges were Mrs. Herbert Cockerill, Mrs. Ad McCoy and Miss Stella Watson. Splendid music was furnished during the evening by young ladies of the neighborhood and Miss Porter, of Greenfield.

Clever Fat Men.

It is frequently averred that fat is deadening to the brain, and consequently a foe to intellectual activity. But is this so? Some of the greatest men the world has ever known were plump even to obesity.

Napoleon was decidedly embonpoint. Dr. Johnson was fleshy even to flabbiness. So was his biographical shadow, Boswell. Balzac, the great French novelist, was so stout that it was a day's exercise to walk around him, and he was encircled with bandages as if he were a hoghead. Rossini, the composer, was a regular Jumbo, since for six years he never saw his knees.

Jules Janin, the prince of critics, broke every sofa he ever sat down upon. Lablache, the great singer, was charged three fares when he traveled. Dumas pere was stout, and Sainte-Beuve carried the stomach of a Falstaff. Eugene Sue had such aversion to his growing corpulence that he drank vinegar to keep it down, and yet he wrote "The Wandering Jew."

A man is not necessarily fat-witted because he has a boundless stomach.

Blow at Suicides.

"A pet monkey that I shipped up town this morning was bound on a most unusual mission for a monkey," said an animal dealer.

"He was bought by a woman who runs a furnished room house in which three persons have killed themselves with gas recently. Those suicides have upset her nerves. Now she is going to try the same preventive means adopted by three of her friends."

"They too, keep roomers. Also they keep monkeys. There have been several attempts at suicide in their houses, but they have always been frustrated by the monkeys, who have smelled gas and set up such a chattering that they woke everybody up."

"Monkeys are extremely sensitive to the odor of gas. This customer of mine hopes to utilize hers as a new kind of life preserver."—Philadelphia Record.

Insuring Identification.

"Persons who expect to receive money orders in a strange town take infinite precautions to identify themselves," said a postal clerk. "One way that particularly commends itself is for the stranger to call on the paying teller in the money order department before his own order arrives and present a bunch of correspondence showing pretty clearly who he is. He then explains that he is expecting a money order from a certain person; can the clerk remember him when he presents it for payment?"

"After that impressive introduction the clerk usually can remember, and when the order is presented he cashes it."

Mrs. George Jackson and daughter, Miss Emma, gave pleasant entertainment to the ladies of the Presbyterian Guild Wednesday afternoon.

Good Prospects for Panama.

As an example of a money-making enterprise the Suez canal is hard to beat. The company is restrained by its charter from making more than a certain percentage of profit, and one of the principal worries of the management is to dispose of its surplus cash. With the best will in the world only so much can be spent in maintenance and improvements and reduced rates generally mean an increased income.

That is what has happened now. By the report read at the annual meeting held in Paris the other day it was shown that the company's revenues during the year which the report covered aggregated $27,762,000, an increase over the preceding year of $886,000, and so to meet the emergency thus presented another reduction of rates was ordered. In this instance the advance was the more notable because political troubles had interfered with the Chinese trade.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

JOHNSON IS "MUGGED" FOR ROGUES' GALLERY

Submits Quietly to Operation and Good Picture Is Taken of the Desperate Character—More of His Cunning Comes to Light, Including Plan to Overpower Sheriff and Escape From Jail.

"Charles Johnson", held at the county jail for attempted burglary, was removed from the jail long enough Wednesday evening to be "mugged" by Photographer Campbell, and his photograph will be sent to the police department of Washington, D. C., and to several of the larger cities, where it is expected that he will be identified and his past record brought to light.

The "mugging" process was in compliance with a telegraphic request received from superintendent of the Washington, D. C., police department, Sylvester, to whom a letter had been addressed by Chief McCoy, in which Chief McCoy informed the Washington, D. C., police that the prisoner here greatly resembled a man named McNeill, who had killed his wife in that city in April.

Two telegrams have been received from the police superintendent at Washington, D. C., and the last one informed the local authorities that when the photograph was received, if the man proved to be the right one, an officer would be dispatched to this point at once, bearing the $100 reward offered for McNeill's capture. It remains to be seen whether Johnson and McNeill are one and the same man. Johnson did not object to having his picture taken, but sat very quietly until he was snapped twice.

Johnson has been kept in close confinement since his effort was made to tunnel his way to freedom Tuesday night, and a close watch has been kept on him.

It has developed that he was the instigator of a plot to overpower the sheriff when he entered the jail alone Tuesday evening, but this plot was tipped off and the man placed where he could do no harm. His plan, made with Downard and into which he tried to draw another "prisoner" who was in the jail a short time, was to call the sheriff of the deputy into the jail and as soon as he stepped in, overpower him, or fell him with a club they had fashioned from a piece of the window sill, and had in readiness.

The fellow will be held until word is received from Washington, D. C., or one of the other places to which they will be sent. He will also undoubtedly be held to the grand jury for the crime of attempted burglary.

Hole Appears In Paved Street

For many weeks a section of the paved street near the curb on Court street at Brown's Drug Store corner has been gradually sinking until it has really become dangerous, and Wednesday night following the rain, which evidently washed more gravel from beneath the brick, a section of the pavement fell in, leaving a very dangerous opening upon one of the most used corners in the city. The street commissioner took the matter in hands to make necessary repairs without delay.

FAIR PLAY.

One of the hardest things to wash is a mechanic's shirt. It accumulates dust and grim and grease, naturally, and the effort to get that dust and grime and grease out with ordinary soap is something tremendous. "Easy Task Soap," however, does half the work for you and makes the other half easier. Its duty is to get after the dirt and take it out. You don't have to rub and scrub over the tub. Tell your grocer you want it. Five cents a cake—same price, as poor soaps.

Estimate Loss Above $30,000

Some idea of the great loss caused by Sunday's high waters in the hill counties of the state may be gleaned from the statement that in Ross county alone in Paint creek valley, the loss to the farmers who had their wheat swept away, will exceed $30,000.

Some of the wheat lost would run from 20 to 30 bushels per acre, and many farmers had their entire crop carried away by the back water which picked up the shocks and landed them in the current to be swept out of the neighborhood.

MAIL CARRIERS WILL FLY.

This is an age of great discoveries. Progress rides on the air. Soon we may see Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits them. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs, Colds and other throat and lung diseases is the most popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. F. Davis, Stickney Corner, Me., "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." For coughs, colds or any bronchial affection its unequalled. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at Blackmer & Tan-

Child Gets Acid Death Follows

Harold, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sellers, of Green county, died at the home of a neighbor where the Sellers were visiting Tuesday evening, after having swallowed the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid.

The acid was in a cupboard in the home of the neighbor, and the little fellow in searching the cupboard found the bottle, removed the cork and swallowed the fluid. He soon relapsed into a state of coma from which he never awakened. Burial was made today in Jamestown.

Autoist Nearly Kills His Wife

Frank Scott, a business man of Greene county, nearly caused the death of his wife in a most peculiar manner Tuesday night when in backing his auto into the shed he pulled the wrong lever and the machine plunged through the building, knocking his wife down and rendering her unconscious for a time.

The machine barely missed the prostrate woman, who had been knocked down by boards from the building.

Domestic Felicity Falls by Wayside

James Rose, through his attorney, J. T. Oatneal, brought suit Thursday afternoon for divorce from his wife, Marie E. Rose, and also asked that she be barred from any interest whatsoever in his estate.

Rose and the defendant were married in this city in September, 1910, and he claims that his better half failed to perform the household duties and was guilty of other gross neglect, and that she was in the habit of leaving him and being away all night. He further alleges that she was vile and indiscreet and made fluent use of oaths, whenever she became angered at him. On June 25, he avers, she left him and remained a week, and that when she left he found a note she had written in which she said she was going away for all time.

LIVE WIRE KILLS HORSE SERIOUSLY INJURES BOY

During the storm early Wednesday evening when the low-hanging clouds caused the darkness of night to envelope the earth, and immediately following the first storm, a serious accident which resulted in the death of a horse and the near death of a boy, occurred just out of Sabina.

Mr. Arch Holmes, who owns a farm near Sabina, was driving into the town, accompanied by his nephew Frank Holmes, a lad of 16 years, and while in the act of entering the town the horse ran into a telephone wire which had fallen upon a highly charged electric wire. When the horse's head struck the wire there was a sprut of blue flame and the animal fell dead in the harness.

Not knowing that death lurked in the wire, the boy grasped the highly charged wire and was rendered unconscious, and it required the attention of physicians until late Thursday morning, when he regained consciousness, and it is thought will recover. The youth is a son of William Holmes, who lives a few miles south of Sabina, and his condition is still critical.

It was necessary to shut off the power before the wire could be placed out of the road of traffic.

BRIDGES CARRIED AWAY AND TRACK WASHED OUT

Passenger Train No. 6 on D. T. & I. Unable to Reach This City, and C. H. & D., Near Wellsion, Is in Worst Condition Than for Many Years--Will Require Days to Make Necessary Repairs.

Bridge after bridge and section after section on the C. H. & D., D. T. & I. and B. & O. railroads were washed out near Jackson and Wellsion Wednesday night when the storm which passed over this city developed into a waterspout which seems to have swept everything before it in two or three counties in Southern Ohio.

Thursday morning the 7:53 north-bound train on the C. H. & D. was two hours late, while below Wellsion on the Ironton division, the road was so completely put out of business that no tickets were sold over that division, and it will be days before the bridges are replaced and track rebuilt where the streams washed out bridges never before touched by floods. It was the worst flood in a score of years, and in some of the villages, including Coalton, it is said the water reached a depth of three feet in the houses.

On the D. T. & I. at least two bridges are out below Jackson, and train No. 6 due here at 2:52 p. m., was annulled, not being able to reach a point within many miles of Jackson, and it will probably not be able to get through for a day or two.

No. 5, south-bound, due here at 9:50, made the trip to Jackson and was there turned, coming back between two and three hours late as No. 6.

Reports are that the main line of the B. & O. suffered serious washouts which tied up traffic for some time.

Mrs. W. B. Adams, Mrs. Will Meyers and daughter, Alice, of Greenfield, and Mrs. Clark Adams and daughter, Alice May, of Mexico City, are the guests of Mrs. Maria M. Adams and family today.

The civic federation contended that the adoption of the initiative and referendum would work great harm, the least serious of its charges being that law making would be transferred from the hands of the majority to those of the minority. The majority would not vote at all, or would vote intelligently. Laws would be enacted by minorities without regard to the rights of the majority.

PENNANT-WINNING PLAYS

By IRWIN M. HOWE, Official Statistician of the American League

HOW WALTER JOHNSON DECIDED THE AMERICAN LEAGUE RACE OF 1908

ADVANCING from a barefoot jayhawker lad in a Kansas town in 1905 to be premier pitcher of a major league club three years later is a leap. It is the history in brief of Walter Johnson, the Washington pitching speed marvel, who helped beat the hitless wonders of Chicago out of a pennant in 1908 by some of the greatest pitching ever seen in the game's history.

A strange fate kept Johnson from the scrutiny of many big league scouts and brought him to a second division club. Although this master of the side arm delivery has never enjoyed the honor of belonging to a pennant-winning club and has never exhibited his talents in a world's series, his good right arm has robbed a club of a flag and given it to another.

In 1908 the White Sox lost the American league pennant by one game. Walter Johnson was Chicago's nemesis in that season. Eliminate his work and Chicago would have won. So completely did this wonderful speed dispenser work his spell over the White Sox that not even Doc White, usually a hoodoo of the Senators, now the Nationals, was able to defeat him.

Johnson's name went into the records three times that season for pitching two and three-hit games against the pennant chasers led by the brainy Fielder Jones. On August 9 Johnson held Chicago to three hits, on August 1 to four and only three were made off his slabbing by the White Sox on Sept. 18. But Johnson's greatest victory of the season came on August 14, when he held Chicago to two safeties in one of the most thrilling games ever seen in the national capital.

Doc White was the White Sox pitcher, which meant a battle every minute of the game. White has been famed for his effectiveness against Washington and that game proved no exception to the rule. It was a pitchers' battle from the first inning until the last man was out in the ninth.

Neither Washington nor Chicago scored a run in the opening inning on Davis' fumble, advanced on a sacrifice hit and scored on Unglaub's single.

Interest in the combat intensified as Johnson kept mowing down the White Sox and White retired the home players. Only two Chicago players reached first base in eight innings and they drew passes. The "Idaho wonder" had fanned ten men. Not one hit was made off his pitching. The game seemed won and the fans were preparing to leave the park. But with the prospect of Johnson gaining fame as a no-hit pitcher, they remained to see that record spoiled in the ninth in a brilliant finale to one of the best pitched contests of the season.

White, the first player up in the ninth, broke the spell and dashed the fond hopes of Johnson's admirers when he drove the ball safely to the outfield for a single. After Hahn had fled to left the Chicago southpaw made a daring steal of second. Fielder Jones came up and drove the ball to center and White dashed madly for home.

Clyde Milan raced in, fielded the ball perfectly and whipped it to Street at the plate. White came sliding to the bag and was touched only a few inches from the home plate. That play gave the game to Washington.

Johnson's wonderful pitching that day against the equally clever work of White tore the league pennant from Chicago's grasp and gave it to Detroit.

it over. I thought it was over, but the umpire thought not—and there were three balls and no strikes. I saw Fred Lake, who was managing the team then, motioning to Stahl, and watched closely while I was getting ready to pitch. Stahl stood there with his toes dug in, yelling for me to put it over and telling me where he would knock it. Now it was a thousand to one that, with men on first and second, none out, and three balls and no strikes, no ball player would hit that ball. But even then I didn't forget that he might. The thing that convinced me he wouldn't was the way he acted. Whenever a batter has the pitcher in a hole and pretends he is going to hit it is a million to one he isn't going to. I shot a fast one straight over. Stahl hit that ball and I heard it sing over my head, and before I could turn around it was rattling around up in the center field bleachers and the game was over. Stahl had the laugh on me, and he didn't forget to laugh, either.

Will Follow Teddy's Trail In Campaign

W. J. Bryan to Assist Colonel's Brand of Progressiveness.

Sea Girt, N. J., July 25.—Senator Gore answered a question last week, "Oh, Mr. Theodore Roosevelt will be taken care of after the campaign opens."

It became known what the senator had in mind when he spoke—Mr. Roosevelt is to be taken care of by William J. Bryan on behalf of the Democratic party, and in all likelihood by Senator Robert M. LaFollette on general principles.

There is no doubt that Mr. Bryan can count on the hearty and whole-souled assistance of the executive committee in his plans.

Mr. Bryan will visit Sea Girt soon after the notification, Aug. 5. The governor has invited him to come any time convenient.

State Committeeman Moore to Raise Big Wilson Fund.

Columbus, O., July 25.—Democratic National Committeeman Edward H. Moore, who managed Governor Harmon's campaign for the presidential nomination, started in to raise $75,000, if possible, for Woodrow Wilson's campaign fund.

Moore's plan is to ask the Democratic and Independent newspapers of Ohio to accept subscriptions of $1 or more from voters who are in sympathy with Wilson.

Moore said he had received a letter from National Committeeman Joseph Daniels of North Carolina, who is to supervise the publicity end of the Wilson campaign, asking him to get in touch immediately with the Democratic and Independent press of Ohio. Moore started in at once, writing to the editors, telling them about the rosy prospects for carrying Ohio for Wilson.

Fire Threatens Canning Factory

A passing freight engine set fire to the pile of pea husks and vines at the Sears & Company Canning factory on South Sycamore street about 2:30 Thursday afternoon, and the fire department was called to extinguish the blaze.

The flames were rapidly eating their way toward the rear of the canning plant, but a few minutes' work extinguished the blaze. The mains at the point tapped were full of mud, and the hose spouted mud for several seconds when the valve was turned on the fire plug.

The old husk pile has been the source of some complaint from the citizens in the immediate locality.

Former Secretary Of State Is Dead

Dr. Addison P. Russel, 84 years of age, a former well known newspaper man, politician and statesman, died at his home in Wilmington Wednesday afternoon after a short illness.

Dr. Russel served two years in the State Legislature and was Secretary of State for four years. During the great Civil War he was financial agent of Ohio at New York, and in all of these positions he showed good business judgment and proved himself efficient in every way.

He was Secretary of State under Governor Chase, and is the man who went to New York to secure funds to pay the soldiers during the war. He was a writer of more than ordinary ability and attained widespread fame in this line.

Rev. Davis Clark, of Cincinnati, will officiate at the funeral.

COLORED CAMP MEETING.

A union camp meeting will be held in the Johnson Grove near Sabina commencing July 27, and will last over three Sundays.

Rev. M. Bradford, of Bookwalter, and Rev. A. Ballard, of Jamestown, will have charge of the services.

SOMETHING ABOUT CHINAWARE.

Every woman is proud of her china, and wants to keep it looking new and perfect. So often she will use the wrong kind of soap on it and injure it in appearance—make it look worn and cheap. "Easy Task Soap"—the hard, white, pure laundry soap—is the only kind to use on china. Not only does it clean china quickly and safely, but its antiseptic qualities sterilize the china. In these days of germ-caused diseases this is an important point.

Healthfulness of Laughter.

Merriopathy is the science of the healing laugh. Merriopathy is better than homeopathy or allopathy for curing all the gloom diseases and grouchy complaints that make life miserable. Some illness need drugs, some need the surgeon's knife, some can be smiled away, but neither you nor I ever knew of a sickness that was cured by a frown.

The wise physician well understands the therapeutic value of fun and a cheerful spirit. Medicine may be a necessary and powerful agent in the treatment of illness, but it may fall where fear and melancholy join hands with the disease. Laughter is one of the best medicines in the world, and lengthens life as well as brightens it. "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine," said the wise man, consequently we may employ it in many chronic cases without fear. Set the gloomy, discouraged, neurasthenic invalid to laughing. Study constantly how to provoke smiles. Cause a few thrills of humor to run, however weakly, through the veins and to tickle the risibles. The hostile forces of disease and worry and discouragement can be driven back by the benevolent microbes of mirth.—The Christian Herald.

The Latter-Day Girl.

"Girls nowadays are very queer creatures," says Bishop Creighton, in a passage not inapplicable at the present time. They like to do odd and independent things, and they will think for themselves, without considering if they have brains enough to think things out. It is all very well to think, if you go far enough; but most people stop in the middle, and so make a mess.

"Don't do that; don't regard yourself as an interesting object. Remember, the best thing to be is not a curious, original, flighty being, but a good, honest, simple, straightforward girl, which is what Nature intended you to be. Therefore, do not muddle up your mind too much."

An Appropriate Testimonial.

"I see somebody has suggested the possibility of erecting a statue to the inventor of rubber tires," said Whittleberry.
"Good!" said Gumminton. "I suppose from the general behavior of the tires it'll be a bust."—Harper's Weekly.

CITY OF BANBURY PASSES

Famous Old Place in England Is Being Despoiled, While Many Relics Are Revealed.

London.—The glory of Banbury is departing. It is no longer necessary to go to Banbury to eat Banbury cakes; they can be bought in London. The old cross, dear to the old lady "who rode a white horse" and to the inmates of countless nurseries, has been replaced by a modern spirelike erection; but still the pride of Banbury remained, could the old Globe room be seen; and now that is going, and the folks of Banbury are angry because they think it is being despoiled for the gratification of American antique hunters.

The old Reindeer inn itself bears the date of 1662 and is full of quaint paneled rooms, with waving, irregular ceilings and unexpected beams, and in its courtyard is the Globe room, which

with its beautiful stone mullioned window, its paneled walls and its plastered ceiling, is said to contain the finest Jacobean work in the country. The date 1637 is carved on the paneling and it was in this room that Cromwell is recorded as holding a council just before the battle of Edgehill.

In the process of removing the paneling some interesting "finds" have been made. Many old coins have been picked up, the majority being of copper and belonging to the eighteenth century. But the most striking discovery has been a double barreled pistol hidden away behind the paneling near the fireplace. It is in excellent preservation and between the two barrels runs the inscription: "Presented to Dick Turpin, at the White Bear Inn, Drury Lane, February 7, 1735," and the name of the maker is given as Baker, London.

Banbury has no legend associating it with the famous highwayman, but the genuineness of the relic is taken for granted.

MANICURES FOR ANIMALS

Departments to Care for Nails and Bills Started at Zoo in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa.—So as to keep the nails of the animals from the lion to the monkey and the bills of the birds from the eagle to the canary in good shape, a well-equipped manicuring and dental establishment is maintained at the zoological gardens. The department is under the supervision of Head Keeper Manley, and it moves its sphere of work from cage to cage in the various houses, as the occasion demands. It is constantly at work.

The tools employed by the manicurists in connection with their labor among the creatures differ materially from the dainty utensils used by the blonde Venus of the barber shop, and consist of a hammer, a chisel, often a hatchet and saw, and always a large, rugged file about 14 inches long. A sharp, strong pair of steel wire nippers is also used on the nails of the larger cats.

The manicuring establishment at the gardens was organized by Superintendent Carson. Realizing that the animals could not wear off their nails on the boards of the cages as quickly as they could on the rocks of their native haunts, and that because of this the claws frequently grew long, turned and penetrated the soft part of the foot, Mr. Carson decided that in order to alleviate the distress caused by ingrowing nails these would have to be clipped.

RATTLESNAKE BITES BABY

Three Hours After Accident Poison Is Discharged Child Is Dead.

Goldendale, Wash.—The three-year-old daughter of W. B. Smith, who resides on Crofton Prairie, ten miles west of this city, was bitten by a rattlesnake in the finger and died just three and one-half hours after the accident.

The child stepped out into the garden a few feet from the house to get a kitten, and as she attempted to pick up the kitten she was struck by the snake. The mother corded the arm at once and applied such antiseptics as were available.

The accident occurred a quarter mile from where Mrs. R. D. Gray was bitten and died as a result about one year ago. Mrs. Gray was bitten on the same finger of the same hand.

31 Words In This Will.

Joliet.—Daniel Hughes, who died suddenly the other day, leaves what is believed to be the shortest will ever penned. It contained 31 words, and lawyers say it is contest-proof.

PROSPERITY CAME IN JUMPS

Good Story From Which Private John Allen Drew a Rule to Guide His Conduct.

Private John Allen, during his long service as representative of Mississippi in congress, was importuned on one occasion to make an after-dinner speech at a banquet at which he was to be a guest.

"No!" said the "private." "I will make a before-dinner speech but none after dinner."

When reminded that a before-dinner speech was quite out of the ordinary, and was asked for his reason for desiring to make his speech before dinner, he told the following story:

"There was a ne'er-do-well that lived near Tupelo, my home town, some years ago named Bill Jones. Bill had a brother Bob, who had gone to Texas quite a while before, and reports said that he was enjoying a fair share of worldly prosperity. When a Texan, from the town in which Bob had located, came to Tupelo, he looked up Bob, who said to him:

"Tell Bob that I have a large family, and things are against me somehow, and if he can give me a little assistance it will be greatly appreciated."

He continued on this strain for some time so that the Texan to relieve the situation proposed that they have a drink. The drink was disposed of, and Bill was cheered up considerably; began to tell what a good crop he would have this year, etc. Another drink was taken with a like result, and after about the fourth had been disposed of, he slapped the Texan on the back and said:

"When you see Bob, you tell him if he or any of his friends need any money, just draw on me for it, and they will get it."

OLD FRIENDS ARE WITH US

The Wild Man of the Woods and the Man Who Won't Give a Tip Both Here.

Old friends are returning with summer. The wild man, who now emerges from a cave in Connecticut and now prefers the Maine woods with a village near by where he can frighten school children, is reported as caught in Tarrytown, N. Y., but he is probably an imposter, for he gave his name and admitted that he gave his name and admitted that he gave his name and admitted that he gave his name.

And again there is the formation of a National Anti-Tipping association. We read a few days ago of a Londoner who in one year traveled considerably over 100 miles to find barbers' shops where his "unbending attitude on the tip question" was unknown and thus spent about $30 on bus and cab fares. He soon exhausted London and the suburbs, and now, unable to shave himself, grows a beard.

These anti-tipping associations labor in vain, for there are always foolish men and women, who, not sure of themselves and wishing to impress others, tip extravagantly.—Philip Hale in Boston Herald.

Man of His Word.

"Central," he said patiently, "you have given me the wrong number seven times now. If you do it again I shall report you. I want Weehauken 7-50 V."

There was a whirring, a clicking, then a clicking whirring.

"Hello," he said, "is this you, Dolly?"

"Yes," answered a sweet voice, put up to it, of course, by its fair owner.

"This is Lawrence Seelingbass. I called up to tell you that if you don't marry me I'll go to Africa and be shot by lions."

"I'll marry you, foolish boy. You've never asked me before, you know."

"What! Who is this?"

"Dolly Darlingham."

He hung up the receiver as if he had been shot. Central had given him the wrong connection again!

On his way to the jeweler's to buy Dolly Darlingham a diamond solitaire he stepped in at the Beestone telephone office to report the operator, for in all things Lawrence Seelingbass was a man of his word.—Philadelphia Evening Times.

Will Follow Teddy's Trail In Campaign

W. J. Bryan to Assist Colonel's Brand of Progressiveness.

Sea Girt, N. J., July 25.—Senator Gore answered a question last week, "Oh, Mr. Theodore Roosevelt will be taken care of after the campaign opens."

It came known what the senator had in mind when he spoke—Mr. Roosevelt is to be taken care of by William J. Bryan on behalf of the Democratic party, and in all likelihood by Senator Robert M. LaFollette on general principles.

There is no doubt that Mr. Bryan can count on the hearty and whole-souled assistance of the executive committee in his plans.

Mr. Bryan will visit Sea Girt soon after the notification, Aug. 5. The governor has invited him to come any time convenient.

E. H. Moore Will Pass Hat Around Collect Funds

State Committeeman Moore to Raise Big Wilson Fund.

Columbus, O., July 25.—Democratic National Committeeman Edward H. Moore, who managed Governor Harmon's campaign for the presidential nomination, started in to raise $75,000, if possible, for Woodrow Wilson's campaign fund.

Moore's plan is to ask the Democratic and Independent newspapers of Ohio to accept subscriptions of $1 or more from voters who are in sympathy with Wilson.

Moore said he had received a letter from National Committeeman Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, who is to supervise the publicity end of the Wilson campaign, asking him to get in touch immediately with the Democratic and Independent press of Ohio. Moore started in at once, writing to the editors, telling them about the rosy prospects for carrying Ohio for Wilson.

with its beautiful stone mullioned window, its paneled walls and its plastered ceiling, is said to contain the finest Jacobean work in the country. The date 1637 is carved on the paneling, and it was in this room that Cromwell is recorded as holding a council just before the battle of Edg-hill.

In the process of removing the paneling some interesting "finds" have been made. Many old coins have been picked up, the majority being of copper and belonging to the eighteenth century. But the most striking discovery has been a double barreled pistol hidden away behind the paneling near the fireplace. It is in excellent preservation and between the two barrels runs the inscription: "Presented to Dick Turpin, at the White Bear Inn, Drury Lane, February 7, 1735," and the name of the maker is given as Baker, London.

Banbury has no legend associating it with the famous highwayman, but the genuineness of the relic is taken for granted.

MANICURES FOR ANIMALS

Departments to Care for Nails and Blisters Started at Zoo in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa.—So as to keep the nails of the animals from the lion to the monkey and the bills of the birds from the eagle to the canary in good shape, a well-equipped manicuring and dental establishment is maintained at the zoological gardens. The department is under the supervision of Head Keeper Manley, and it moves its sphere of work from cage to cage in the various houses, as the occasion demands. It is constantly at work.

The tools employed by the manicurists in connection with their labor among the creatures differ materially from the dainty utensils used by the blonde Venus of the barber shop, and consist of a hammer, a chisel, often a hatchet and saw, and always a large, rugged file about 14 inches long. A sharp, strong pair of steel wire nippers is also used on the nails of the larger cats.

The manicuring establishment at the gardens was organized by Superintendent Carson. Realizing that the animals could not wear off their nails on the boards of the cages as quickly as they could on the rocks of their native haunts, and that because of this the claws frequently grew long, turned and penetrated the soft part of the foot, Mr. Carson decided that in order to alleviate the distress caused by ingrowing nails these would have to be clipped.

RATTLESNAKE BITES BABY

Three Hours After Accident Poison Is Discharged Child Is Dead.

Goldendale, Wash.—The three-year-old daughter of W. B. Smith, who resides on Crofton Prairie, ten miles west of this city, was bitten by a rattlesnake in the finger and died just three and one-half hours after the accident.

The child stepped out into the garden a few feet from the house to get a kitten, and as she attempted to pick up the kitten she was struck by the snake. The mother corded the arm at once and applied such antiseptics as were available.

The accident occurred a quarter mile from where Mrs. R. D. Gray was bitten and died as a result about one year ago. Mrs. Gray was bitten on the same finger of the same hand.

31 Words in This Will.
Joliet.—Daniel Hughes, who died suddenly the other day, leaves what is believed to be the shortest will ever penned. It contained 31 words, and lawyers say it is contest-proof.

PROSPERITY CAME IN JUMPS

Good Story From Which Private John Allen Drew a Rule to Guide His Conduct.

Private John Allen, during his long service as representative of Mississippi in congress, was importuned on one occasion to make an after-dinner speech at a banquet at which he was to be a guest.

"No!" said the "private." "I will make a before-dinner speech but none after dinner."

When reminded that a before-dinner speech was quite out of the ordinary, and was asked for his reason for desiring to make his speech before dinner, he told the following story:

"There was a ne'er-do-well that lived near Tupelo, my home town, some years ago named Bill Jones. Bill had a brother Bob, who had gone to Texas quite a while before, and reports said that he was enjoying a fair share of worldly prosperity. When a Texan, from the town in which Bob had located, came to Tupelo, he looked up Bob, who said to him:

"Tell Bob that I have a large family, and things are against me somehow, and if he can give me a little assistance it will be greatly appreciated."

He continued on this strain for some time so that the Texan to relieve the situation proposed that they have a drink. The drink was disposed of, and Bill was cheered considerably; began to tell what a good crop he would have this year, etc. Another drink was taken with a like result, and after about the fourth had been disposed of, he slapped the Texan on the back and said:

"When you see Bob, you tell him if he or any of his friends need any money, just draw on me for it, and they will get it."

OLD FRIENDS ARE WITH US

The Wild Man of the Woods and the Man Who Won't Give a Tip Both Here.

Old friends are returning with summer. The wild man, who now emerges from a cave in Connecticut and now prefers the Maine woods with a village near by where he can frighten school children, is reported as caught in Tarrytown, N. Y., but he is probably an imposter, for he gave his name and admitted that he was hungry. The real wild man is nameless, and in trackless solitudes or visiting a settlement is cheerfully omnivorous, and skillful in obtaining food from nature and from man.

And again there is the formation of a National Anti-Tipping association. We read a few days ago of a Londoner who in one year traveled considerably over 100 miles to find barbers' shops where his "unbending attitude on the tip question" was unknown and thus spent about $30 on bus and cab fares. He soon exhausted London and the suburbs, and now, unable to shave himself, grows a beard.

These anti-tipping associations labor in vain, for there are always foolish men and women, who, not sure of themselves and wishing to impress others, tip extravagantly.—Philip Hale in Boston Herald.

Man of His Word.
"Central," he said patiently, "you have given me the wrong number seven times now. If you do it again I shall report you. I want Weehauken 7-50 V."

There was a whirring, a clicking, then a clicking whirring.

"Hello," he said, "is this you, Dolly?"

"Yes," answered a sweet voice, put up to it, of course, by its fair owner.

"This is Lawrence Seelingbass. I called up to tell you that if you don't marry me I'll go to Africa and be shot by lions."

"I'll marry you, foolish boy. You've never asked me before, you know."

"What! Who is this?"

"Dolly Darlingham."

He hung up the receiver as if he had been shot. Central had given him the wrong connection again!

On his way to the jeweler's to buy Dolly Darlingham a diamond solitaire he stepped in at the Beeston telephone office to report the operator, for in all things Lawrence Seelingbass was a man of his word.—Philadelphia Evening Times.

Improved Gas Light.
According to the Scientific American, experiments are at present in progress in Paris as the result of which it is hoped to secure an increased light efficiency from incandescent gas burners. Under present conditions the gas pressure in the mains is sufficient to draw a certain amount of air into the burner, where it becomes mixed with the gas, causing the characteristic blue flame. But the amount of air thus drawn into the flame is only about three times that of the gas, whereas, for the best effect, the ration should be five to one. It has been found that by compressing the gas in the mains the desirable ratio of air can be caused to enter the flame. One of the boulevards in Paris has lamps working on this system, and the results are exceedingly satisfactory.
